1. Children are learning to use computers at school. Consequently, many young people are better at computers than their parents.
2. Many people have a password to open programs on their computers because they don't want other people to see their data.
3. Since receiving spam can cause problems, people install anti-spam programs.

4. Most businesses want their employees to be able to use computers. As a result, there has been an increase in the number of computer courses available.
 5. Because computer chips are smaller and more powerful than ever before, computers can be smaller but faster.
